VOL XXII. CHICAGO, SUNDAY, NOVEMBER 1, 1868. NUMBER 124.

THE CAMPAIGN.

The Closing Up of the Great Work.

Loyalty Eager for the Grand Charge of Tuesday.

Secretary Seward's Speech at Auburn.

He Considers the Democracy Greatly in Need of Purification.

And Four Years' Probation Necessary to that End.

SPEECH OF GOVERNOR BAKER AT FORT WAYNE.

Special Despatch to The Chicago Tribune.

FORT WAYNE, Ind., Oct. 31.

Count Baker, Governor elect of Indiana, dispersed rousing and happy discourse to a crowded house last night. He arrived last evening and was met on the depot by a large crowd, who escorted him to his quarters. This evening hundreds over again, escorted by two bands, he had to be content on the sidewalks being lined with joyful Republicans and repentant Democrats, alike paying homage to the honored man who beat the popular Democratic standard of Indiana. The Democrats have won a name for fair play by their honorable behavior to defeat. Meeting as they are to-day on the result of the late election, it would be well if they would attempt to distract the meeting, but no such proposition has been offered. Governor Baker will not, are being speaker to-night. Everything is going off well.

Governor Baker's address closed the meeting with cheers for Grant. The hall was densely crowded, and speaker Appendage, after announcing the many ladies who, in each, composed the respectable audience, the Republicans of Indiana, he said, will insure a gain next October in this Democratic county.

CLOSING RALLY OF THE CAMPAIGN AT LA CROSSE.

Special Despatch to The Chicago Tribune.

LA CROSSE, Wis., Oct. 31.

Ex-Governor Salomon, of Milwaukee, addressed a large Republican meeting at La Crosse, in English and German, on Friday evening. Notwithstanding the inclemency of the weather, which is quite unprecedented, the Heroes of Lancaster, Earle immediately handsome, mustered in good order and marched to the meeting with the Light Guard Band and the Hamilton and La Crosse Glee Club, which was so decently packed that there was scarcely room for Gov. Salomon to get in. Gov. Salomon's address was so decently packed that thousands could not get within hearing of the stand. Ex-Governor Salomon is by common consent the ablest speaker in the State, and his address was worthy of the occasion. He was frequently interrupted with the most enthusiastic applause, and at the close was given three rousing cheers for Grant and Colfax.

OUTRAGE OUTRAGES AT STOUGHTON, WIS.

Special Despatch to The Chicago Tribune.

STOUGHTON, Wis., Oct. 31.

A lot of Ku-Klux roughs from here were down to Stoughton last night, and carried on much after the manner of the young scalawags of Chicago on election night, only that they met no such well-behaved boys as the Chicago youngsters, but, leaving into private houses, and making night hideous generally. The disturbance was so general that they got into differently and after assembling on either, several or three times, were badly treated. They came home, having accomplished nothing, and were followed by a large crowd, who threatened to clean out the whole of them.

SITUATION—Wanted—By a young man, who has had experience in the business, a situation as salesman in a wholesale or retail dry goods house. Best of reference given. Address for one week, 1 Box 5, Tribune office.

TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 2.

On Tuesday next the American people, from the Lakes to the Gulf, and from the Atlantic to the setting of the sun, will assemble together to declare their will. A free and spectacle it will be—but of a high order deciding its future policy in a constitutional manner. Four years ago they assembled in like manner, and decided that the storm should go on. Horatio Seymour was then traversing the country crying for peace, while General Grant was leading the rebellion to his iron grave at Appomattox. Seymour was up for peace, and Grant for war. Whether the country will go back to the policies of 1864, or forward to the principles of 1865, is the question to be decided on Tuesday next.

The issues of the campaign are few and simple. They are not complicated by any side questions. The platforms of the two parties are before the country, and the people will vote directly upon them. The Democratic platform is a unit on the question of the war. It declares that the war was a failure, and that the Democracy will not endorse it. It declares that the Democracy will not pay the debt created by the war, but will repudiate it. It declares that the Democracy will not pay the bonds issued to pay the bounties to the soldiers, but will repudiate them. It declares that the Democracy will not pay the greenbacks, but will repudiate them. It declares that the Democracy will not pay the interest on the bonds, but will repudiate it. It declares that the Democracy will not pay the pensions to the soldiers, but will repudiate them. It declares that the Democracy will not pay the bounties to the soldiers, but will repudiate them. It declares that the Democracy will not pay the claims for the emancipated slaves, but will repudiate them. It declares that the Democracy will not pay the claims for the loyal men whose property was destroyed during the war

THE COMMON.

Regular Meeting of the Association Yesterday.

The Pretty, Witty and Wise in Attendance.

Cheerful Conversations on Various Interesting Topics.

Poetry, Love-Making, Proposals and Suicide.

A Discovery.

The regular weekly meeting of the Socials was held yesterday, as usual, at the Malory House, and was numerously attended by the charming and accomplished girls and matrons of the North, events and West Divisions of Chicago, being one of the first occasions of the season which that some but those who are pretty, or witty, or both, shall be admitted. Hence, if those who fail at the barrels or its proceedings, be assured that the possessors some of the above humiliated qualifications.

They are, as usual, of earthly salads, and of heavenly crème, and quenched their drein thirst with delicate sips of—

"The juice of Burgundy's grape,
The finest grape that grows."

They flirted with lemonades, trifled with tartary, and jested with jellies. Toasts and low attended, and flys never came unheeded when they were absent and Thomas, those fabulist sarkers, at with scrolls of the forsaken song, who have rejoiced since those concise words which make them the marvel of the circles in which they move—and justly so—"Thomas, the cake is walking!" began.

Mrs. K——. Ladies, I regret to announce that the lecturer of the day is unavoidably absent. Dear as the cause of temperance is to him, that of the Democratic party is dearer. Instead of addressing us, he will be engaged at a ward meeting.

Mrs. W——. I am sure I do not regret it. I understand the speaker wants to get an act of the Legislature abolishing the Sunday cars.

Mrs. M——. Oh, yes, and wine jelly also, which is in his eyes a seduction, and a crime.

Miss M——. He must take all those, but he must leave us my bottled ale.

Miss T——. Miss this as a business meeting, suppose we are told something about the constitution or our paper, our organ.

Miss G——. I am sure we should all like to hear it.

Mrs. W——. Miss L——, that is a queer command of language that I, and the will give ink for the, [illegible] and the will give ink for the [illegible].

Miss L——. I have read but little of it, but I feel one, but heaven knows what.

Mrs. K——. I have one, and I will bring him if he will promise to behave himself.

Miss L——. I have a charm in one, and I will bring him if he will promise to behave himself.

Miss T——. I have two; but shall not say either of them is mine.

Miss L——. I have one, but shall not say whether it is mine or not.

Miss T——. I have two; but shall not say either of them is mine.

Miss L——. I have one, and I will bring him if he will promise to behave himself.

THE DEMONSTRATION.

Unavoidable Postponement of the Grand Tanner Parade.

The Grand Display to Occur To-Morrow Evening.

To morning opened on yesterday many eyes that had known ward. The eyes of thirty thousand Chicago Tanners caught the skies and looked all to the ground with a disappointed dissatisfied expression. There were ominous clouds charging the heavens, and during drizzling rain and unusual cold formed a combination of wet, disagreeable weather to call great processions out. It was not of Grant's Tanner soldiery; and, as the sons say, time present of a fine evening was wasted. Towards evening Grand believed a morning of the events on Tanner assembled, and after due consideration, it was decided to postpone the parade until to-morrow evening.

A temporary delay of this most magnificent demonstration ever witnessed in the North will only lend fire and enthusiasm to those intend to participate in it. There is also an added inducement to the Republicans of this to turn out in full force to-morrow night. On the evening a grand Copperhead demonstration, that a spirit of confusion will be awakened, commence will endeavor in bring many men into the field; the Republicans should be a strong effort to swell the numbers of Union at their combined them before in all processions of the campaign. The following is general order in relation to the parade:

Closing on Election Day.

understood there is a very general desire on part of our business men to close their establishments on Tuesday next, election day, that the idea will prevail, and that all our merchants and manufacturers will shut their doors on day. It is no more than right that business be suspended on such an important occasion.

It is a duty we cheerfully owe their country, and we know his country, he is a citizen of Democrat, should give up this day business and devote his time to the exercise of election. By that means a fair representation, and the best will be had. It is hoped that will be closed, and all desire to see of business be closed on Tuesday next.
